British Grain Trade.
LONDON, Nov. 30.—The Mark Lane Express in its weekly review of the British grain trade says:

English wheats declined one shilling.
Although the weather was dry the bulk of samples offered were damp and of inferior quality. Foreign wheats also declined one shilling in consequence of the enormous arrivals.
Stocks in ports amount to 600,000 quarters in excess of the reserves at the same time last year. Until the weather is more favourable the price of wheat is impossible. It is estimated that wheat and flour on passage amount to a total of 3,000,000 quarters. Quota of passage wheat is 1,000,000 quarters. Barley, oats and Indian corn have declined 6000.

Business today was meagre. English wheats were in demand and were low, as the sales. Foreign wheats suffered the same reduction, although they were more firmly held.

GRAND MUSIC.
That in the Mass Celebrated at St. Louis Yesterday Archbishop Ken-rick's Jubilee.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 30.—The music of the mass was given on a grand scale.
The mass selected for the occasion was "Missa Solenne" by Haydn. The choir was composed of fifty trained voices under the direction of Mr. Joseph Otten accompanied by an orchestra of thirty-six pieces and a grand organ.

A new and novel feature in the music of the mass was furnished by the Franciscan fathers. A select choir of that order sang in Gregorian style, and their performance was highly praised. The choir was composed of the following: "Oxygen" and "Post Communion." In the mass, under the direction of Rev. F. Floribertus of San Francisco.

The church was decorated on a grand scale. The sanctuary was almost completely covered with garlands and illuminated with views of rich colors. Large banners were suspended from the high ceiling and the walls were covered with decorations. A pretty feature of the decorations were Latin inscriptions on the principal columns, and two plaques on the altar, one of which was taken from the Bible, were particularly fitting to the occasion. They told of the principal events of Archbishop Kenrick's life, from his birth to the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination as bishop. It is stated, they are as follows: "And I will raise you up a faithful minister, who shall be a shepherd and be my shepherd." "Received (with joy) August 15, 1860." "Made Priest of God March 1861." "Arrived in America during the month of October, 1861."
"Consecrated Bishop November 30, 1861." "Reached Archdiocese of St. Louis January 1, 1862." "His Eminence, Nov. 30, 1891." "God will send a Crown on His Head for Everlasting Honor." "May He Rejoice in His Labor." "This is the Gift of God."
"The Holy Spirit of God." "Because it is a jubilee and the fiftieth year."

CORN DEALS.
Default in Delivering 100,000 Bushels.
Stopped by the Courts.
In the Deal.

CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 30.—One hundred thousand bushels of November corn were defaulted this afternoon at the end of the session of the board of trade. P. J. Ryan, of Chicago, was the defendant in the extent of 60,000 bushels, and it is rumored that Blum & Engstrom are among the firms making up the other forty thousand bushels. The reason that Ryan & Co. are defaulters is an injunction issued by Judge Tuley restraining them from the order of Harvey B. Scholtes. Scholtes contracted to deliver November corn when the price was 40 c.
He did not have the corn closed, and when it became necessary for him to pay 75c per bushel for 50,000 bushels, he brought the injunction on the ground that a combination had been formed and the price advanced to an unlawful figure. The corn was contracted to Lamson Bros., and in turn sold by them. They expect to pay the shortage and bring suit against P. J. Ryan. The firms who are supposed to be in the deal are Bartlett, Frazier & Co., who are credited with being the owners of the corn, and Andrew company and Nardin, the New York house.

COLLEGE FUNDS MISSING.
The Female Principal Discharged for Kleptomania Tendencies.

New York, Nov. 30.—Mrs. E. S. West, who for six years was the lady principal of Katharine's female college at No. 15 West Fifty-fifth street and who for a much longer period has been regarded as the personification of goodness, sternness, by her own confession, confessing the funds of the college to her own use. There is proof that by most original and unimpeached she has taken more than $1000 which should have been used for the purchase of the college. But the aggregate loss through her is known to be much greater, although the exact amount cannot be stated.
Certain it is, however, that her resources were so heavy that the life of the college was actually menaced at one time. The discovery was made recently that Mrs. West had taken $500 from the college. She was confronted with the facts she denied having taken the money and offered to resign, but at the same time she made so plausible an explanation that the trustees who had been induced to regard her action as an error rather than a fault, and she was allowed to retain her position. After this discovery there were more developments.
They came so rapidly that the trustees each other's heads, and finally on October 7 the lady principal was summoned before a meeting of the trustees and summarily dismissed. "I am innocent," Mrs. West says, "the leading of providence refusing my future movements." Dr. George W.
Sampson, president of the college, admitted yesterday that Mrs. West's connection with the college and the institution had ceased when he said it.

A BAD GANG BROKEN UP.
Six Notorious "Hangers" Workers Captured by New York Officer.

New York, Nov. 30.—One of the worst gangs that ever robbed a man by the "hanger" game was broken up last night by Inspector Byrnes' detectives. It was composed of six notorious thieves, two women and four men, all of whom were locked up in police headquarters. Within the past six weeks Inspector Byrnes received two complaints from men who refused to give their names, that they had been accosted on the street by women, enticed to some house, the location of which they failed to give, and had been robbed.

Detective O'Brien Grady, Valletti and Hanley were detailed on the case and soon settled upon Jennie Jones, alias Alice Oates, who robbed a Southern bookmaker named Gordon of $1000 a year ago, as one of the guilty parties. They traced her to No. 147 East Twenty-sixth street, and last night, assisted by Detectives McCusky and Crowley, arrested the lookout, Mike McCarthy.

man and Moss McAlister two fourteen-year-old boys, had a fight at school over a ister with a target gun, neither shot taking attending conference, left for home today.

The President's Agreement.
CHICAGO, ILL., Nov. 30.—It was rumored today that the commissioners of the Western traffic association, are to hold a secret meeting this week for the purpose of investigating the alleged violations of the famous president's agreement. These violations, it is said, have reference to the paying of unauthorized commissions on passenger alves "Wreck Donovan" and made a raid upon the house shortly after the Jones woman had entered with another victim.

They were connected by a passage-way about six feet wide, on either side of which were narrow alcoves, which served as the main means of egress and ingress of the gang until the time came to rob the victim that had been enticed into the rear parlor. The door of the room was not open, and the door was closed and opened outward quickly and noiselessly.
When the detectives broke into the room they found William Ferguson, alias Bill Davy, an ex-convict and railroad thief in the front room. In the alcove were "Tim" Oates, the leader of the gang, who had served three terms in state prisons for pick-pocketing, and "Jack" Walsh, who has done time in the Texas penitentiary. The Jones woman and the intended victim, who gave his name as Charles Henry, and said he was in the coffee business in Cincinnati, and was staying at the Hoffman house.
When asked if he had been robbed he opened his pocket-book and found that $5 was missing. The money was afterward traced to the pocket of Walsh, who had been turned in by the thieves when the detectives broke into the room. When leaving the house with the prisoners the detectives met Annie Davis, the other member of the gang, on the steps with another victim, and took her into custody. The gang has been operating in the city for about a month. The leader, Oates, is an adept in his line, and only a few months ago went to England with a female companion and succeeded in "mugging" a wealthy Englishman. Oates is an adept in his

He is in the Speakership Race Not Glory, but as the Representative of His State.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Representative Hatch and party did not arrive until late this afternoon, as the train on which they were traveling was delayed by a wreck. The following citizens of Missouri are here, giving Mr.
Hatch their assistance: John A. Smith, Col. Cornelius Corbitt, George A. Smith, R. N. Wallace, Chas. E. Elbert, Griff Prather, Alanzo Church and ex-Governor Brookmeyer.

Governor Francis and a large delegation from Missouri are expected here. Wednesday is Hatch's day. Hatch stated to an Associated press reporter this evening that he was in the race for the speakership in good faith, and that his ambition, but as the representative of the state and with the solid endorsement of the Democratic party there. He had no idea of retiring from the race until he last night. He would say in the strongest way that he had not been, nor did he expect to be, in any combinations affecting any other offices of the house. He was simply making a dignified canvass for the speakership and based his hopes of success on the wisdom and sound judgment of the Democratic members of the caucus. He did not expect to win at the start, but at the finish.

The headquarters of the various candidates were crowded with their friends until late in the evening. There were no new developments, so far as is known, and the battle is still among the five aroused candidates. It is expected that there will be about 250 Democrats who will cast their votes on Saturday.
The candidates themselves are not expected to vote, which will reduce the number actually participating in the election to 250. One hundred and thirteen votes will, therefore, be necessary to secure the nomination.

An Expert.
There was a tremendous crowd in front of the clothing store. A large glass jar had been placed on a pedestal inside the window and this placard conspicuously adorned it:

ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS WILL BE GIVEN TO ANY MAN WHO CAN GUESS THE NUM-BER OF DRESS IS IN THE JAR.

A violent commotion on the outskirts of the crowd attracted the attention of those near the window, and somebody called out:
"What's the matter?"

"This is a fair and square contest," yelled a man in reply, "but we don't want no expert on beans guessing out that jar, by jinks! We've been hustled a Boston man out of this crowd!"—Chicago Tribune.
